Never did a more patriotic, true-hearted, industrious company of women labor so assiduously in a noble cause as have those of Oxford. On last Saturday a dispatch was received here while the Avent Southrons and McClung Riflemen were on parade, to take up their line of march on Tuesday morning. The call was received with shouts of joy. The ladies immediately set to work to make up necessary clothing and equipments, and worked night and day to accomplish their praiseworthy object. They are still at work for the soldiers, while angels in their poble deeds:

Public Speaking.

The Hon, Alexander M. Clayton, of Marshall County, lately a member of the Provisional Congress at Montgomery, will address the people of Lafayette County, at the Court House in Oxford, on Saturday next, the 1st day of June,

On Monday afternoon this splendid company paraded our streets in full uniform. They are from Sarepts, Calhoun County, and number 106 hard fighting men-perfect dare-devils. The 1st Lieut., Henry L. Duncan, a graduate of our University, has been a teacher in Calhoun and Pontotoc counties for several years. Eightcen of his scholars were in the ranks. After teaching the young ideas how to shoot, he now proposes to let them shoot Black Republicans, The following is a list of the principal officers: Capt., John M. Lyles, 1st Liont, Henry L. The Handsomest Fing of All.

We saw last night, for the first time, the beautiful flag prepared by the ladies of Oxford for the McClung Riflemen. The material is a rich, heavy silk, forming the Confederate flag, with eleven stars on the blue field. The lettering upon it was very handsomely executed by Dr. Cullen. Altogether, we consider it to be the handsomest flag yet presented in Oxford. The McClung Riflemen are justly proud of it.

The other day a Methodist dergyman went to exhort them. Billy Wilson drew his men up and called "Attention!".
